I was surprised how little effort it took me. Yoga, a mindful diet and my daily dose of APEX were all I needed to feel comfortable in my own skin. It has never been so easy!

K¹

BIOACTIVE COLLAGEN PEPTIDE NO. 1

Collagen is the most abundant protein in the human body. Studies with our No. 1 collagen peptide show that, thanks to its particular molecular weight, it significantly increases both muscle growth and strength compared to a placebo group.

K²

COLLAGEN PEPTIDE NO. 2

Numerous studies show that certain collagen peptides can improve cartilage function. It is not for nothing that collagens are already standard in cartilage therapy. Our study-based collagen peptide no. 2 has been proven to be one. In addition, it supports the connective tissue.

BLOOD ORANGE EXTRACT

The blood orange is particularly rich in color because it is extremely rich in anthocyanides, flavonoids and other plant substances which, among other things, have a positive effect on the metabolism. Studies with our Sicilian Moro orange extract prove weight reduction when taken regularly.

SOLUBLE FIBER

Soluble dietary fiber acts as a swelling agent and serves as a food for good intestinal bacteria, enabling them to multiply excellently. This is why they are often referred to as pre-biotics. The recommended intake is 30 grams daily, but on average, Europeans manage just 15-20 grams!

GUARANA

Guarana is known to unfold the effect of the caffeine it contains more slowly, but for a long time, because it is bound to plant substances. Thus, the caffeine gives neither tremors nor sleepless nights. It also contributes to weight control and fat metabolism.
