RENEW
 THE SPERMIDINE BOOSTER

VABO-N RENEW, pure anti-aging – for you and your cells! Two Nobel Prizes and decades of research packed into delicious soft gums for your daily anti-aging ration.

Studies confirm: spermidine activates autophagy! Scientists have found that our body's natural recycling system is boosted not only by fasting and intensive activity, but also by so-called spermidine.

Spermidine is a natural organic compound that is found in all body cells. Unfortunately its concentration in the cells decreases with age. By taking spermidine, you can balance this process to boost your body's autophagy.

Our body consists of around 100 trillion cells. In order for us to stay young and healthy, they must function perfectly. But that is not always the case. Why? Among other things, cell garbage (damaged and old parts of the cell) prevents our cells and thus our body from functioning properly - with health consequences. To prevent this, there is an endogenous recycling system: the so-called autophagy.

This is mainly known from the world of fasting. Autophagy is a highly effective natural anti-aging process in which damaged or useless cell components are recognized and broken down into the smallest building blocks, which in turn are rebuilt or used for energy production. This enables cell damage to be repaired and protects cells against premature cell death – the proliferation of healthy cells is promoted. This means the aging process is slowed in a natural way.
